Growth strategy based on internationalization and digitalization Bertrandt acquires Spanish company Centum Digital

Ehningen, May 22, 2024 – Bertrandt continues to strengthen its progressive internationalization as well as its expertise in non-automotive industries with the acquisition of the Spanish company Centum Digital. The company focuses on quality assurance, cyber security and systems engineering, among other things.

To strengthen its presence in the Spanish market and broadening its expertise, Bertrandt has successfully acquired Centum Digital, a dynamic and forward-thinking company based in Madrid. The acquisition was finalized on May 21 and represents a significant milestone for both companies.

“Bertrandt and Centum Digital are linked by a long-standing partnership, which has now culminated in the acquisition. We are very happy to welcome Centum Digital to the Bertrandt Group. Together, we can meet our customers’ requirements in the best possible way,” says Michael Lücke, Member of the Management Board of Bertrandt AG.

Founded in 2005 in Madrid, Centum Digital is an expert organisation for quality assurance, services for mobile virtual network operator, Cyber Security, Systems Engineering, critical Software Development and Smart Factory. The customers mainly come from the international aerospace and defence industry as well as the Spanish telecommunication sector.

“Joining forces with Bertrandt is a tremendous opportunity for us to continuously meet the increasingly complex and larger requirements of our clients. We are looking forward to contribute to Bertrandt’s global vision and purpose,” says Igor Amantegui, CEO of Centum Digital.

The acquisition aligns with Bertrandt’s growth strategy, which focuses on internationalization, digitalization and innovation acceleration. The terms of the acquisition remain confidential.
